Credit Hour and Commitment

This course is offered for 3 semester credits; therefore it is expected that you will spend 135 total hours on this course. This translates to a steady 9 hours each week. You'll spend your time in the 16 modules with 16 lessons, weekly online coaching sessions with your instructor, and peer mentoring. Each module represents a typical semester course.

A recommended weekly schedule to divide your time is provided:

Readings: 3 hours
Lectures: 2 hours
Weekly Assignment: 1 hour
Interactive Discussions: 1 hour
Weekly work on Papers: 2 hour

Please note the following:

Below are 3 important factors for being successful in this discipleship course

1. You have the desire for personal growth. This is a journey in discipleship and it not just an academic activity.
2. That you attend the weekly coaching session with the instructor. This will provide you with the tools that you need to share with others.
3. You find a peer mentee. This is someone in which you will share what you are learning in the class. This person must have the desire for personal growth. It is important that you have a good relationship with this person. The mentee will need to be able to write answers at the end of the class about the process. You will be the one to upload the evaluation into LearningHub.

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Design an individual discipleship plan.
2. Apply key biblical concepts of Christian discipleship to your own life and a friend.
3. Identify how God works to make disciples and the essential characteristics that discipleship to Jesus includes.
4. Integrate theories of human psycho-social, moral, and faith development into your discipleship journey.
5. Evaluate your own progress as a disciple, both by yourself, and in community, and be able to make relevant adjustments to your discipleship journey.

Part 2: Course Methods and Delivery

Methods of Instruction

Methods of instruction include assigned readings from the textbook and the course material, essay, individual reflections on the reading via discussion forum posts, interactions with the instructor and fellow students via discussion forum posts and weekly video conference. Regular participation in the course is essential to good performance.

Part 3: Course Requirements

Important Note: This online class is not self-paced. You can arrange your schedule flexibly during each week, but you MUST participate each week. You are expected to “show up” to class by interacting in the discussion forums a minimum of two times per week. In addition, assignments are due regularly each week. Adequate Internet access during the duration of the course is critical for your participation. To be successful, plan to spend time daily on the course.

Assessment Descriptions

1. Theological paper—The character and qualities of a disciple in the gospel of Matthew. Read the gospel of Matthew, and write a paper that describes the qualities and character traits of a disciple that you observe in the life of Jesus focusing on his life as a model disciple. This should focus on who Jesus is, rather than what he was doing—unless Jesus' actions reveal something about who he is. A final section should explore the implication of your findings to your own life as a disciple of Jesus (2000 words). Submitted in the final module.
2. Discipleship glossary—Throughout the class you will develop a discipleship glossary that will contain a list of discipleship concepts for which you will provide definitions. For each definition you write, add one or two sentences that explains how you think this concept could impact your own discipleship to Jesus. You can update this glossary as you progress through the modules and grow in your understanding. Submitted in the final module.

3. Individual Discipleship Plan (IDP)—This is a personal discipleship plan you will develop at the beginning of the course and implement throughout. You will be provided with a form to guide you in this. The IDP will incorporate personal devotional activities of your own choosing to grow as a disciple of Jesus. You will need to find a peer mentor to join you in this discipleship journey with whom you will share what you are learning for approximately 15 minutes a week. They will need to agree to provide a response to this process at the end of the class which is valued as 5% of your final grade. You submit your IDP in module 1, update it throughout, and then provide a personal evaluation of it at the end of the course when you will re-submit your IDP.
4. Discussion forum posts (video or written) for reading and participating in the IDP—At the end of each module, write or record a discussion forum post that should cover 3 specific areas with a paragraph written for each (up to 500 words total or 5 minutes).
 - One paragraph should be a personal reflection on a key idea you found from each of the assigned readings/videos.
 - The second paragraph should be a reflection on what you have discovered when completing the current section of your IDP.
 - A third paragraph should be a reflection on your discussion with your peer mentor.

Discussion forums are opportunities for you, the course instructor and your classmates to engage in robust online conversations. In some instances, where one student is enrolled in a course, discussions will be with the instructor. Those conversations are most often based on academic topics and questions. They are integral to the course and provide avenues for enriching knowledge as well as constructing knowledge through thoughtful dialogue with peers and instructors.

Each discussion forum post should only cover the material for the current module. Have this discussion forum post available to share for the next video conference. Remember that the discussion forum post should be written only after all the other work has been completed for the current module. This is enable you to reflecting on all your learning together.

The discussion forum holds to the same academic standards for originality and honesty as other academic work (e.g. papers, essays, quizzes and exams). Whenever appropriate, any idea or statement in a discussion forum that is not your own original work should be referenced, according to the style guide adopted by your academic discipline (e.g. APA, MLA, Chicago, etc.).

There may also be forums in the course in which the discussions are informal. Such discussions may include personal introductions and opportunities to know more about other participants in the course as well as academic topics. Informal forums are great for sharing interests, observations and encouragements with classmates.

For each forum in this course you will be required, unless otherwise instructed, to create an initial post and, at least, two replies to classmates. Course weeks [after the first week] begin on Friday and end on Thursday. The initial post is due by 11:55 pm on Sunday of the week the discussion is assigned. Replies to classmates are due by 11:55 pm on Thursday of the week the discussion is assigned.

5. Weekly coaching video conference—A one hour online video mentoring session will be held for all students taking the class each week, no matter what module they are currently taking. The focus will be on 1) our personal growth as disciples using the IDP and the authentic sharing of our journey in community. This would also include 2) verbal reflections on your discussion forum posts and assignments worked on during the previous week, and 3) any questions concerning the course. Where something happens outside of your control that prevents your attending the video session, you can watch the recording and submit a minimum of 300 word response to what was discussed and how it relates to your own discipleship journey.
6. Final reflection exercise—Create a Keynote or Powerpoint presentation that you will share with others, or a video (5-10 minutes) that you will post on your own social media, that casts a vision for being disciple of Jesus. This exercise gives you the opportunity to summarize your own discipleship learning during the course. So it is partly a summary of concepts that have been helpful and partly a personal testimony of your own discipleship journey. Questions to consider should include: 1) What are the most important discipleship concepts I have learned during this class that I want to pass on? 2) How successful have I been so far in integrating these concepts into my life, and how do intend to further integrate them in the future? 3) What areas of discipleship to Jesus have caused me the most problems and challenges, and how do I plan to address these in the future? There are no right or wrong answers to these questions. Your primary task is be as honest and transparent as you can, because authenticity builds trust and community as you are sharing with others, and it also gives you a clearer understanding of your strengths and weaknesses going forwards as a disciple of Jesus.

Part 5: Course Policies

Withdrawal and Incomplete Policies

The current withdrawal policy can be found online at <https://www.andrews.edu/distance/students/gradplus/withdrawal.html>. The incomplete policy is found online at <http://www.andrews.edu/weblmsc/moodle/public/incompletes.html>.

Late Work

Due dates are listed both in the LearningHub course space and in the syllabus. Late work will have 10% of the earned points deducted.

Maintain Professional Conduct Both in the Classroom and Online

The classroom is a professional environment where academic debate and learning take place. Your instructor will make every effort to make this environment safe for you to share your opinions, ideas, and beliefs. In return, you are expected to respect the opinions, ideas, and beliefs of other students—both in the face-to-face classroom and online communication. Students have the right and privilege to learn in the class, free from harassment and disruption.

Netiquette

In this course you will communicate with your classmates and instructor primarily in writing through the discussion forum and e-mail.

"Online manners" are generally known as "netiquette." As a general rule, you should adhere to the same classroom conduct that you would "off-line" in a face-to-face course. Some examples of proper netiquette are:

1. Avoid writing messages in all capital letters. THIS IS GENERALLY UNDERSTOOD AS SHOUTING.
2. Be careful what you put in writing. Even if you are writing an e-mail message to one person, assume that anyone could read it. Though you may send an e-mail to a single person, it is very easy to forward your message to hundreds or thousands of people.
3. Grammar and spelling matter. Online courses demand the same standard of academic communication and use of grammar as face-to-face courses.
4. Never use profanity in any area of an online course. The transcripts of online course discussion forums, e-mail, and chat sessions are savable.
5. When responding to messages, only use "Reply to All" when you really intend to reply to all.
6. Avoid unkindly public criticism of others. Publicly criticizing others in an inappropriate way is known as "flaming." Consider this course a practice forum for selecting your verbiage thoughtfully and professionally.
7. Use sarcasm cautiously. In the absence of nonverbal cues such as facial expressions and voice inflections, the context for your sarcasm may be lost, and your message may thus be misinterpreted.
8. In a face-to-face setting, our tone of voice and facial expressions may convey as much of our meaning as the words we use. In a written message, the subtext of your meaning may be confused or misinterpreted. Write clearly. Use active verbs.

Academic Accommodations

Students who require accommodations may request an academic adjustment as follows:

1. Read the Andrews University Disability Accommodation information at <https://www.andrews.edu/services/sscenter/disability/>
2. Download and fill in the disability form at <http://www.andrews.edu/services/sscenter/disability/accommodationsreqform.pdf>. Preferably type answers. To save a digital copy, 1) print to file and save or 2) print and scan. Email the completed form and disability documentation (if any) to success@andrews.edu or fax it to (269) 471-8407.

3. Email sdestudents@andrews.edu to inform the School of Distance Education that a disability has been reported to Student Success.

Commitment to Integrity

As a student in this course, and at the university, you are expected to maintain high degrees of professionalism, commitment to active learning, participation in this course, and integrity in your behavior in and out of this online classroom.

Commitment to Excellence

You deserve a standing ovation based on your decision to enroll in, and effectively complete this course. Honesty

Using the work of another student or allowing work to be used by another student jeopardizes not only the teacher-student relationship but also the student’s academic standing. Lessons may be discussed with other students, tutors may help to guide a student’s work, and textbooks, encyclopedias and other resource materials may be used for additional assistance, but the actual response must be the student’s own work. A student who gives information to another student to be used in a dishonest way is equally guilty of dishonesty.

Any violation of this policy will be taken before the Higher Education Academic and Curriculum Committee for appropriate punitive action.
