Course Description

Welcome to English 15! This course takes multicultural immigrant literature as a springboard to spark and refine your college writing skills. It will help you develop and organize a toolbox of communication skills to improve your writing and articulate what it means to be an immigrant in the United States of America today. We will focus mainly on crafting clear, concise, and compelling writing based on the analysis of the novel. Each novel will hail from a different racial or ethnic perspective, including Iranian, Cuban, Japanese, Mexican, and Puerto Rican. During the semester, you will learn to apply and analyze the seven elements of fiction: plot, setting, character, conflict, symbol, point of view, and theme. This course is designed to prepare you for success in college and the job market where clear writing and critical thinking are prized. It is also designed to provide you a platform from which to enjoy the humanities as well as the performing arts.

Course Learning Outcomes

- Identify the seven elements of fiction.
- Practice literary analysis.
- Develop arguments with concrete support and evidence.
- Discuss literature as a significant outcome of the human experience.
- Document sources using MLA format.

Assessment of Student Learning Outcomes

Student learning is at the core of the MSMU mission. MSMU faculty developed a plan to assess the student-learning outcomes that represent the knowledge, skills and attitudes expected of a college student in your major. In this class one or more student learning outcomes will be assessed. Some of our class assignments may be used to evaluate overall student learning and to improve teaching and learning in this class, this department, and throughout the University.

The following Core Capabilities are included in this course:

- Work Ethic
- Learning to Learn
- Teamwork
- Critical Thinking
- Effective Communication

Course Requirements

- Time Requirements. This is a 3-credit-hour course and will require approximately 18 hours of focused effort every week over the 8-week course schedule to be completed successfully. Please schedule time for this course, along with other courses and individual responsibilities you may have accordingly.
- Adaptive & Project-Based. This course uses a combination of individualized, adaptive learning, and project-based learning strategies. As such, you will be expected to actively engage with the content of the course individually and also to collaborate actively with your peers every week.

- Mastery. You are required to demonstrate mastery of the concepts and terms presented within the course. You will demonstrate mastery by completing a series of quizzes and assignments designed to help you improve your proficiency with the terminology, concepts and skills presented in the course content.
- Participation & Engagement. You are expected to fully engage with your classmates, your instructor and the content of the course. Full engagement requires that you log into the online system and communicate meaningfully with your classmates at least five days each week. Doing so will make your learning experience more effective, more enjoyable, and ultimately, more successful.
- Discussions and Groups. A discussion is not a discussion if you only post and reply a couple of times a week, several days apart. Your group can only communicate and function at its best if everyone is present and actively involved. You are expected to take personal responsibility for the success of your discussions and group work. Login, read and post to discussions and group projects at least three to four days per week, depending on the assignment expectations for the week. When the workload becomes more challenging, reach out to your classmates more often.
- Project. The major project for this course is to collaboratively design and build a final project. All of your collaborative work from week to week will be shared with the class publicly and will be evaluated by your peers and by your instructor at the end of the course.
- Writing expectations. This is a rigorous, college-level course and you are expected to write at the college level in all of your assignments. Failure to proofread submissions for spelling and grammar will result in a significantly lower grade.

Program and Course Policies

Discussion Forum Guidelines

This course will require significant online interaction with your classmates. Please remember the following guidelines as you post and reply to your classmates.

- Review the discussion threads thoroughly before entering the discussion. Be a reader, then a respondent.
- Try to maintain threads by using the “Reply” button rather than starting a new topic.
- Do not make insulting or inflammatory statements to other members of the discussion group. Be respectful of others ideas.
- Be polite. Choose your words carefully. Do not use derogatory statements.
- Be patient and read the comments of other group members thoroughly before entering your remarks.
- Be positive and constructive in group discussions.
- Respond in a thoughtful and timely manner.

Late or missing assignments

All assignments and exams listed in the syllabus must be submitted in order to earn a passing grade in the course. Assignments and assessments are due according to the course schedule and syllabus. All students are expected to plan their time and energies so that course work can be completed and submitted on time.

If an emergency, medical or personal obstacle prevents you from meeting assignment expectations, you must contact your instructor as early as possible. At your instructor’s discretion, assignments may be accepted after the due date, though late penalties may be assessed to your score. Except in extreme cases (as determined by your instructor), an assignment that is more than one week late will be accepted and will receive feedback, but will earn zero points towards your grade.

Due Dates and Times

Remember to check your time zone in the Canvas system. You can do this by clicking settings in the top right corner, then checking it in the center part of the page. All due date times are 11:59 pm in Pacific Time. This means that if you are in a different time zone, the due date may appear to be later, since 11:59 pm PT on Wednesday is 12:59 am Mountain Time on Thursday, 1:59 Central Time on Thursday, and 2:59 Eastern Time on Thursday.

You may want to set your time zone in the Canvas system to Pacific Time. Then, you will always see the correct due date, and you do not need to worry about converting time zones.

Policy on Incompletes

An incomplete in a course can be granted only when a student has fulfilled the majority of the course requirements, has a passing grade in course work, is prevented from completing the assigned work for serious medical/personal reasons, and can, in the opinion of the instructor, complete the work within one eight-week session.

University Policies

Attendance and Engagement

Attendance and engagement are important for successful study, especially in an online class environment. Although you may not be required to appear in a classroom each week, you are expected to participate regularly in the online environment, to engage actively with the course content, with your classmates and with your instructor. In fact, early and regular participation in online classes is a significant predictor of student success.

Therefore, measures of student engagement and participation may be taken into account in determining academic grades. Students may be expected to explain to the instructor the reason for any absences from class activities and, in some cases, be asked to provide appropriate documentation. For more details, please see the Attendance policy in the Student Handbook.

Academic integrity

The academic environment is predicated on truth and integrity. Acts of dishonesty constitute a serious offense to the Mount Community. Please visit the complete academic integrity policy in the Student Handbook. Acts of academic dishonesty include, but are not limited to:

- Cheating
- Failing to hand in original work
- Plagiarism
- Falsification or misrepresentation
- Theft

Academic freedom

Students and faculty's freedom of speech is constitutionally protected, so they are free to take reasoned exception to the data or views offered in any course of study and to reserve judgment about matters of opinion —and allow the same freedom for others. See the Student Handbook for further discussion.
