

EDU572: World History of Education

(2 credit hours)

Course Syllabus

Course Description

This course surveys education and educational philosophies from ancient cultures to major contemporary education developments. The course emphasizes institutional developments and cultural events that have accompanied them, and the course reviews historical background of contemporary theory, practice, and reform. Students will also spend time developing skills in analyzing primary and secondary sources.

Course Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course, you will be able to:

1. Explain important periods, events, and ideas in different cultures in regard to the history of education.
2. Critically evaluate and analyze historical evidence, when appropriate, in the form of primary source documents.
3. Describe the historical context of ideas and events and evaluate differing scholarly interpretations of the past.
4. Determine historical accuracy and bias in sources.

Prerequisites/Corequisites

None

Required Textbook(s) and Resources

For this course there are no books or materials to purchase. Be sure, however, to review the weekly Explore sections for library or web resources. For access to databases, research help, and writing tips, visit the Tiffin University Library. You might consider registering for one of the library's many webinars on library research, source evaluation, copyright, and other topics, at the Library Events - Upcoming Events web page. For further assistance email a librarian, at: library@tiffin.edu.

Time Commitment

Effective time management is possibly the single most critical element to your academic success. To do well in this online class you should plan your time wisely to maximize your learning through the completion of readings, discussions, and assignments. Because of our accelerated, seven-week term, TU online courses are designed with the expectation that you dedicate a little over six (6) hours per credit hour to course activities and preparation each week. For example, for successful completion of a two-credit, seven-week online course you should reserve roughly twelve (12) hours per week.

To help plan your time and keep on track toward successful course completion, note the distinctive rhythm of assignment due dates:

1. All times assume Eastern Time (GMT-4).
2. Weeks begin at 12:00 a.m. ET on Monday and end at 11:55 p.m. ET on Sunday.
3. Unless otherwise noted, initial assignments or discussion posts are due by 11:55 p.m. ET on Wednesdays.
4. Additional assignments or follow-up discussion posts are due by 11:55 p.m. ET on Saturdays, and
5. Major assignments and reflections are typically due by 11:55 p.m. ET on Sundays.

Learning Activities

Learning activities within this class include weekly discussion forums, two presentations, a textbook analysis, a short essay, a role-playing scenario, two annotations, and a final course project (a complete annotated bibliography). These activities align with the course outcomes and offer significant opportunities for students to apply target skills, knowledge or attitudes to solving or analyzing real-world, authentic problems. All activities and assignments in the course are provided with a rubric for analysis, clarity, and consistency in grading.

Grading

The chart below identifies the individual contributions from each type of activity, per week.

Tips for Success

Successful online learning requires a good deal of self-discipline and self-direction. As seekers of the truth, we should be willing to challenge and review one another's academic work in a spirit of respectful comradery and constructiveness. Your course is a place for you to stretch and grow as you benefit from the expertise, knowledge, experience and diverse perspectives of your instructor and peers. Constructive feedback will challenge you to stretch your own thinking, thereby expanding your knowledge, understanding and application.

To get the most out of your learning experience, you should actively engage (participate) in ALL course activities. Course elements are arranged chronologically. To complete a week, simply work your way "down the page" through all of the course materials and activities.

Your Instructor Will Expect You to:

- Thoroughly review orientation materials (Start Here) within the first 48 hours of the term.
- Monitor your TU email account daily for important updates and announcements.
- Take ownership of your learning experience and act in a proactive, self-directed manner. That means:
 - Fully participate in all learning activities.
 - Complete assignments as described in rubrics or other instructions.
 - Submit all work on time and in the specified format (e.g. APA format for citations).
 - Utilize and incorporate instructor provided feedback to improve your work.
 - Ask questions so you can better understand course material or assignments.
 - Use the highest standards of intellectual honesty and integrity. For more information, see the TU Library guide: Digital Literacy: Netiquette and Internet Safety.

- Treat others respectfully and demonstrate "netiquette" (online politeness and respectfulness) at all times. TU celebrates cultural uniqueness and expects all students to be considerate and thoughtful throughout their learning experiences.

You Should Expect Your Instructors to:

- Post an introductory announcement/email at the beginning of each week to provide updates and help you prepare for the week's activities.
- Maintain an active and engaged presence in all course activities and throughout the course.
- Respond to your emailed questions within 48 hours, if not sooner.
- Clearly communicate any absences or expected non-participation due to extenuating circumstances. For example, "I will be traveling to attend a funeral this week and may not be able to respond to questions or participate in forums for a couple of days."
- When grading your work:
 - clearly indicate their grading approach (what they like to see in submitted work as well as what types of errors they tend to penalize more harshly),
 - thoroughly review and evaluate your submissions in a timely manner (in less than 5 days for most assignments), and
 - provide constructive feedback that indicates the strengths and weaknesses of your work and provides suggestions on how you can improve your performance on future assignments.
- Advocate for your success as a learner and help guide you toward successful completion of the course activities and most importantly, attainment of the course learning outcomes.

Accommodations

The Office for Disability Services supports the institutional commitment to diversity by providing educational opportunities for qualified individuals with disabilities through accessible programs and services in compliance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990.

If you need reasonable accommodations due to a documented disability, contact the Office for Equity, Access, & Opportunity 419.448.3021 or via email at disabilityservices@tiffin.edu.

Additional Resources & Support

For technical support, either email moodlesupport@tiffin.edu or call the 24/7 Technical Support Call Center at 855-664-1200.

If you need to consult an academic advisor refer to TU's Meet the Team page.

For information about TU's peer tutoring program see the Murphy Center's Tutoring Policies and Procedures page. Veterans and active military can seek assistance from TU's Veteran and Military Services Web Page.

Comments or Concerns

TU's online programs are designed to be student driven: to empower you with a voice and stake in your learning. Our courses feature multiple and varied ways that you can share feedback, and we invite you to become an active voice and help drive our improvement efforts. In addition to providing in-course feedback, we encourage you to submit questions or comments directly to the online team at online@tiffin.edu.
